Lifelines Outreach shares the Good News of the Gospel of Jesus Christ and by making disciples in the greater Nashville area.

August 2017

These are some of the things that I try to incorporate into my ministry as I lead small groups and make disciples.

1. Know and embrace God's unconditional love. If you don't "know that you know," and if you are not in peace with your relationship with God, and more importantly, His relationship with you, you will not be able to love others unconditionally. Ask Him to show you how much He loves you and He will be happy to do it. He is that kind of God.
2. Have a plan. Maintain a clear and personal vision for your group as a whole as well as individual members of your group. This will help you make decision when things get fuzzy and remind you of why you are doing what you are doing when things get tough.
3. The people in the group become your friends. If you invest in the lives of the individuals in your group you will impact them in ways that they will never forget.
4. Always emphasize the importance of prayer and the reading of the Word of God. Always remember that Jesus is the ultimate disciple maker. It's always His plans and not your plans. 1 Cor. 2:2 "For I determined to know nothing among you except Jesus Christ, and Him crucified." Paul always pointed people to Jesus and not to himself. That's always our job. John the Baptist said that "He must increase that I might decrease."
5. You must be a disciple before you can make a disciple. A lesson that I learned many years ago is that you can't ask someone to do something that you are not willing to do yourself. If you want to create disciples that love the Word and love prayer, you are going to have to be yourself a person that loves to read the Word and prayer. Disciples always take responsibility for their own spiritual maturity. Model that lesson well for those you are teaching and leading.
6. Do not just focus on meeting together but doing ministry together that's where real ministry and personal transformation occurs. Too often we just concentrate on the meeting rather than focusing on living out our lives as followers of Jesus every day. We are not just to focus our time on the meeting but sharing our lives together all week long.

Thanks for praying for us. I never have enough room to say what I want to say but thank you for praying for us and thank you for your financial help. We couldn't do it with out you!

Remember to read your Bible and pray every day. –Richard Gay
